

The Top 12 Things to do Before Moving For a Less Stressful Moving Experience

Presented by: RelocationNetwork.co

Ready to move to a new home? Here at Relocation Network Inc, we would like to ensure your moving experience is pleasant. We all know how stressful can be when it comes to moving. From the sorting, packing, cleaning, moving, and unpacking.

Here are a few tips that our customers swear by to help you move with less stress.

Moving Tip #1

The secrets: start early, lay out a plan and get organized!

Not planning appropriately is by far the number one cause of stress for any move.

Moving Tip #2:

Start organizing at least 2 months before your move date and don't pack important documents.

Starting this far in advance allows you enough time to start the packing process and break it up into bite-size chunks of time.

Save money...bundle your moving and storage costs together. Find out how much you can save by calling our experienced staff today and asking about our special offer at 310-945-2662.

Moving Tip #3:

Change your mailing address at your local US Post Office for all the residents and businesses involved with your move.

It sounds simple...you would be surprised how many movers forget or delay this action and it causes more stress and a delay in mail receipt.

Moving Tip #4:

Order moving supplies; boxes, bubble wraps, markers, tape

Purchasing these critical supplies in advance of your moving efforts will greatly reduce your stress levels and provide an organized, safe handling of your belongings.

Quick note: RelocationNetwork.co offers FREE packing materials ($75 value) to it's customers.

Moving Tip #5:

Have a garage sale to eliminate some of your unwanted stuff while making some money to reduce your moving expenses!

Don't be afraid to let go of those belongings that have been collecting dust for years! You know what we're talking about!

Moving Tip #6:

Donate your other unwanted items to charity.

For the items that didn't sell at your estate sale, consider donating them to a charity such as your local Goodwill location to receive tax deductible savings in your moving process!

Moving Tip #7:

Inspect your home with a handyman or a licensed home inspector.

This is often overlooked by many homeowners. Having an inspector check out your home and then address any issues can increase the resale value of the home and avoid any closing issues and greater costs/delays.

Moving Tip #8:

Change your billing address; bank and credit card(s)

Yep, same as Tip #3 however make sure you make a list and change the address on all your important bank, credit card accounts, etc.

Customers always feel a little better once this step is completed.

Moving Tip #9:

Update your insurance contact information and consider getting a new quote on your: auto, homeowner, life, & health insurance.

Moving to a different locale can decrease your insurance rates in many cases depending upon the new location.

Moving Tip #10:

Got pets? Update your pet's chip and tags

Yep, this one can easily slip your mind when in moving "stess mode".

Moving Tip #11:

Have new locks installed or re-keyed at your new home.

It's simple...start out in your new home fresh and secure!

- Our process for long distance moves is much like our process for local moves. It starts with an inventory and ends with you happily moved into your new home. We create an inventory together. We start by working with you to create a thorough inventory of the goods you want to move. No detail is too small.

We issue a move plan with a flat rate price. Once we understand the details, we'll issue a comprehensive move plan describing the move in detail: who, what, when, where, and what. This document will lock in your flat rate price.

We pack or you do it yourself. If you are packing yourself, we can recommend the proper type and amount of materials and deliver them in advance. Or we can take care of the packing and unpacking for you. No time wasted. Our team arrives at the scheduled time on your moving day and gets to work right away.

We will:

- Protect corners and floors
- Wrap and protect all listed furniture
- Disassemble any items when necessary
- Pack electronics and art
- Load your belongings to the truck
- We meet at your destination.

When you are ready for us, we'll put your items in your new home, simply tell us where you wanted it them! We leave when you completely satisfied. If you are moving further away than just Los Angeles area, or you need items moved within the United States – Relocation Network is there for you as well.
